About

ASEAN and EU have jointly designed SHARE to support ASEAN's ambition to build an ASEAN Higher Education Area, to strengthen regional cooperation, enhance the quality, competitiveness and internationalisation of ASEAN higher education institutions and students, and thereby to contribute to a people-centred ASEAN Community. On this journey, SHARE provides ASEAN with relevant experience and expertise from the European Higher Education Area.

A consortium of British Council (lead), Campus France, the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD), Nuffic and the European Association for Quality Assurance in Higher Education (ENQA) implements SHARE on behalf of ASEAN and EU from 2015 to 2019. SHARE's work can be grouped in five areas:

- Policy Dialogues (PDs): in support of harmonization of higher education in the ASEAN region with policymakers as well as technical specialists.
- Qualifications Frameworks (QFs): supporting the implementation of the ASEAN Qualifications Reference Framework (AQRF) and the development of National Qualification Frameworks.
- Quality Assurance (QA): fostering the ASEAN QA Framework (AQAF) at regional/national levels through a combination of European-ASEAN expert dialogue, framework development, dissemination workshops and capacity development.
- ASEAN-EU Credit Transfer System (AECTS): Building on existing credit transfer systems (CTS), SHARE is setting up a common system for credit transfer and developing a comprehensive set of mobility tools. Extensive capacity building measures accompany the technical work.
- ACTS & AECTS Student Mobility with Scholarships: SHARE has set up a comprehensive student mobility scheme for the ASEAN region and is implementing five student intakes by providing scholarships to some 500 ASEAN students for credit mobility within ASEAN and in the EU.

Objectives

Higher education harmonisation and a cross-ASEAN scholarship scheme can drive integration within ASEAN and create a stronger ASEAN community, providing opportunities for ASEAN young people to study and work in other ASEAN countries, speak other ASEAN languages, experience cultures and cuisines of these countries, and develop friendships with other ASEAN nationals. These young people will then start to think of themselves not only as nationals of their own countries, but also as members of the ASEAN community, this embeds a clear ASEAN perspective within the individual lives of these young people.

Overall objective of the workshop

As the first phase of SHARE project is coming to close, the overall aim of this workshop is to act as a platform for students and alumni to take stock of what SHARE has delivered in terms of suggestions and recommendations for (a) developing an alumni network based on ASEAN student mobility (b) strengthening and improving the internationalization of ASEAN higher education by means of alumni engagement and (c) promoting ASEAN citizenship and connectivity via the establishment and empowerment of alumni networks.

This workshop builds on the results of the Student Mobility and Alumni Workshop held in Ho Chi Minh City on 2-3 July 2019. In this workshop students, alumni and Higher Education Institutions laid the foundation regarding alumni empowerment and its role in enhancing the internationalisation and connectivity of the Higher Education landscape in ASEAN. This second workshop will take the outcomes of this workshop as a starting point to work on the practical implementations of alumni engagement and discuss ways to make it work in practice.

Specific objective 1:

Developing an alumni network based on ASEAN student mobility

The workshop focusses on exploring best practices in managing alumni relations including strategies for identifying, tracking and engaging alumni in support of an ASEAN community and building effective connections with ASEAN economic opportunities and the labour market.

Specific objective 2:

Strengthening the internationalization of ASEAN higher education

The workshop reflects on the lessons learned by students and alumni with a special focus on the role of the International Offices of Universities that have participated in SHARE in facilitating mobility and the empowerment and engagement of alumni.

Specific objective 3:*Promoting ASEAN citizenship & connectivity via alumni networks

The workshop enhances the awareness among young academics and young professionals for the role Higher Education institutions can play in promoting ASEAN citizenship and connectivity via the establishment and engagement of alumni networks.

Expected result of the workshop

The participants of the workshop will be invited to jointly develop an actionable vision paper - including an eye on the practical implications - on how the engagement and empowerment of alumni networks can help (a) strengthening the internationalization of the Higher Education landscape in ASEAN and (b) promote ASEAN citizenship and connectivity.

The resulting vision paper will be presented and handed over to the ASEAN Secretariat through its Education, Youth and Sports Division. Furthermore, the vision paper will also inform the current ASEAN Student Mobility Studies as commissioned by the SHARE project and the start-up of the second phase of the SHARE project.

Target Group

The workshop will be attended by 6 student representatives (including SHARE alumni) from each ASEAN Member States, representatives from regional organizations (ASEAN Secretariat, EU Delegation in Indonesia, ASEAN Foundation, AUN, SEAMEO) and SHARE Consortium Partners.

ASEAN

ASEAN (Association of Southeast Asian Nations) supports the vision of a regional Higher Education Space as a core element of people-to-people connectivity and the ASEAN Socio-cultural Community. Anchored on the ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community Blueprint 2025, The ASEAN Work Plan on Education 2016-2020 includes as key priorities the strengthening of higher education sector through the implementation of robust quality assurance mechanisms, and fostering the role of higher education in the area of socio-economic development through university-industry partnerships. The Work Plan for Education expands education cooperation in ASEAN towards development of a more coordinated, cohesive and coherent ASEAN position and its contribution to global education goals, including in higher education.

In 2015, the ASEAN leaders acknowledged higher education as a catalyst in achieving economic and socio-cultural goals of ASEAN, and welcomed the adoption of the Kuala Lumpur Declaration on Higher Education at the 27th ASEAN Summit. Cooperation on higher education in ASEAN has gained momentum with the full implementation of the European Union Support to Higher Education in ASEAN Region (SHARE) in the same year. SHARE is a flagship project of the ASEAN Education Sector that aims to promote harmonisation of higher education, and introduce an ASEAN scholarship inspired by the EU's Erasmus Mundus to create space for higher education in ASEAN.

The ASEAN Education Sector is governed by and under the purview of the ASEAN Ministers of Education Meeting (ASEM), which convenes bi-annually, and the ASEAN Senior Officials Meeting on Education (SOM-ED) which meets annually. Chairmanship of both meetings rotates alphabetically between ASEAN Member States, and is held by Singapore in 2018. The ASEAN Secretariat supports coordination of sectoral activities through the Education, Youth and Sports Division (EYSD) and liaises with the SEAMEO Secretariat as well as with ASEAN Dialogue Partners and international organisations. Two ASEAN bodies focus specifically on education, the ASEAN University Network (AUN), headquartered in Bangkok, Thailand, and the ASEAN Quality Assurance Network (AQAN), headquartered in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

EUROPEAN UNION

European Union

The European Union (EU) is a unique grouping of 28 independent countries with around 510.1 million citizens living within its boundaries. The 28 EU Member States consist of: Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Croatia, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden and the United Kingdom.

The European Union (EU) and the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) have a dynamic partnership in a number of areas, from political dialogue, cooperation in non-traditional security areas, trade and investment relations, connectivity, to cooperation in community building among ASEAN member states. The EU SHARE programme was formulated responding to ASEAN's request as stipulated in ASEAN Five Year Work Plan on Education in the field of higher education.

Through the SHARE programme, EU will share its experience with the Bologna Process, which was launched in 1999 by the Ministers of Education and university leaders of 29 countries. The Bologna Process is an important process of harmonising various higher education systems in Europe aiming at creating a European Higher Education Area (EHEA). Most of the Bologna action lines, such as quality assurance, student and staff mobility, the European dimension in higher education, the European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (ECTS) and the Diploma Supplement, have their origins in the EU-funded activities of the Erasmus+ programme.

British Council

www.britishcouncil.org

The British Council is the UK's international organisation for cultural relations and educational opportunities. It was founded in 1934 and today flourishes with representations in over 100 countries in six continents. The British Council is the main contractor of SHARE with the European Commission, and through its Indonesian office, coordinates SHARE's overall activities and leads on policy dialogues.

Campus France

www.campusfrance.org

Campus France is the French national agency for the promotion of higher education, international student services, and international mobility. As a Public Industrial and Commercial Institution created in 2010, it operates under the authority and oversight of the Ministries of Foreign Affairs, International Development, Education, Higher Education and Research. Campus France has a network of over 230 overseas offices and annexes in 119 countries including in 9 ASEAN Member States. Campus France is in charge of the Credit Transfer System of the SHARE Programme.

DAAD

German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD)

www.daad.de

The DAAD is a joint organisation of German institutions of higher education. DAAD aims to promote academic co-operation world-wide, especially through the exchange of students, scholars, academics, and scientists. In addition to its headquarters in Bonn, the DAAD runs 14 regional offices in selected cities all over the world. DAAD's responsibility in the SHARE Project is to implement and coordinate all activities related to Qualification Frameworks and Quality Assurance.

Nuffic

www.nuffic.nl

Nuffic is the expertise and service centre for internationalisation in Dutch education. From its headquarters in The Hague and eleven offices worldwide, Nuffic pursues its mission of internationalising education. Nuffic has a expertise, is a service provider, a knowledge centre, and as a model for the internationalisation of education. Through its regional office based in Indonesia, Nuffic coordinates the scholarship activities with SHARE: both intra-ASEAN and ASEAN-EU.

The European Association for Quality Assurance in Higher Education (ENQA)

The European Association for Quality Assurance in Higher Education (ENQA) has a mission to contribute significantly to the enhancement of the quality of European higher education and to act as a major driving force for the development of quality assurance (QA) across The European Higher Education AREA (EHEA). ENQA is a membership association representing circa 100 members and affiliate organisations. ENQA disseminates information, experiences and good practice in QA and its activities are designed to facilitate the implementation of the Standards and Guidelines for Quality Assurance in the EHEA.
